

So, You Want to be a Speaker at the ASCA World Clinic?

Here's your chance

Lots of fine coaches have "things to say" that are of value to their fellow coaches. But no one knows who you are. (yet). Now's your chance.

In 2018 at the ASCA World Clinic in Anaheim, CA on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 6-7 the ASCA will create and promote a schedule of 10 minute presentations in the Exhibit Hall. We'll schedule up to 10 per day, leaving about 2 minutes after each talk for a couple of questions.

That means 20 new speaking opportunities!

You have ten minutes to "WOW" your colleagues with your thoughts.

Coach Michael Lawrence of the Board of Directors will moderate and will evaluate each of the 20 speakers. The three that are judged "Most Valuable" will be offered a "paid gig" speaking for a full hour the following year, (2019) in San Diego, California. So three of twenty will move on up to the big stage!

Clearly, you have to be "in it to win it." Send Coach Lawrence your idea outlined in one page or less, to him at pegasus523@gmail.com. Applications to speak are open NOW, and will close on July 15, 2018, and Coach Lawrence will notify you if you are selected to be one of the 20 presentations.

When you submit your ideas to Coach Lawrence, be already registered for the ASCA World Clinic to be eligible.

Your turn to be a Star! Let us hear from you.
